MOTHER SUICIDES AFTER MURDERING HER INFANT CHILD

New York, May 26.—Mrs. Charlotte O'Neil, wife of Francis O'Neil, an architectural expert employed by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, was found dead today with bullet in her heart in a bedroom of her home at 811 Eastern Parkway, an exclusive residential section of Brooklyn.

In an adjoining room lay two of her three children, Josephine, one year old, and Francis, aged four. Both apparently were dead, strangled by cords drawn tightly around their necks. The boy was later revived, but the baby died.

The police theory of murder and suicide was strengthened by a short statement made by Mr. O'Neil. He said that his wife had shown signs of nervousness and had been somewhat irrational after the birth of her youngest child a year ago and once had threatened to kill herself.

STRIKERS WON'T BE GOVERNED BY UNION'S ORDERS

as to whether the men should go back to work under present conditions and 17 voted yes. The others voted emphatically "No." After the votes were taken it was decided by the members present in view of the misrepresentation in the press to give the general public a true statement of the facts in the case.

The James Stewart Construction company being a recognized union concern, agreed to abide by all the laws of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union, and the local having jurisdiction in the locality within which they are operating, have repeatedly violated said rules. First, the men are supposed to be paid before 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, a rule which has not been lived up to, most of the men having been kept waiting in a line long after noon.

The violation of this rule entails a payment of the waiting time which the company has not paid up to date. The company has not even taken steps to change the conditions under which this rule has been broken. On Monday last the men were in line at 7:15 to take out checks to try to get to work at 8 o'clock, but they were not to work. After due consideration the men decided that the limit has been reached in the violations of the rules of their organization and as the local union seemed powerless to correct these evils, the men decided to act for themselves. Consequently the trouble.

Relief Ship Delayed For Federal Officers To Finish Inspection

The George B. Cluett, relief ship of the Grenfell Association of America which has been in the harbor since a week ago, has been delayed for an absence for three years in Arctic regions, must lay over here until Saturday until her machinery has been thoroughly inspected by U. S. inspectors Wright and Dennis of New Haven.

Captain H. C. Pickles had intended to sail for New York today but as it was necessary that she be inspected before being permitted to leave for her port of destination, the delay of several days has been occasioned.

Wagon Runs Over Foot of Child of 21 Months

John Coglio, only 21 months old, lies at 85 Washington avenue, sat on the curbstone in front of his house yesterday. A wagon passing near the curb ran over his right ankle. It is believed at the emergency hospital where treatment was asked that the bones have been broken. X-ray pictures will be taken.

COURT DENIES MOTION TO FIND FOR LAWYER ACCUSED OF HAVING TRIED TO SUBORN R. R. WITNESS

Defence Begins in Superior Court This Afternoon—
Witness For Prosecution Denies Having Said Railroad Was Trying to "Get" Prisoner—Says He Meant Road Was After "System."

A motion that the court instruct the criminal superior court jury to find in favor of Attorney Walter F. Peck, the New York lawyer charged with subornation of perjury, was denied by Judge William S. Case this afternoon.

Attorney O'Neil made his motion after the state rested. He said there was no such crime committed as alleged in the indictment. He pointed out that Attorney Peck was accused only of trying to induce Hugh Mooney of this city to sign a certain paper and Mooney was told that if he signed the paper the railroad company would probably settle the suit brought by Mrs. Mary Horn against the road. Attorney O'Neil claimed an attempt must be made to induce a man to get a person to testify, falsely to establish a crime.

State's Attorney Cummings declared that such a motion as that made by Attorney O'Neil was not permitted.

He said it was contrary to custom of the Connecticut courts. Judge Case then reserved decision until 2 o'clock.

The state's last witness was Attorney James W. Carpenter, member of the New Haven railroad's legal staff. He told about vouchers given for money paid to investigators who looked into cases brought against the railroad company. On cross examination he was asked if he hadn't said in a New York court that the New Haven road was trying to "get" Attorney O'Neil, who had won a $75,000 and a $37,000 suit against the road. Attorney Carpenter admitted he said that in substance, but qualified it by saying he meant the road was trying to get at the system back of the numerous lawsuits in New York state.

The defense began to put on witnesses this afternoon.

ALLEGED WHITE SLAVER, CAUGHT BY FEDERAL POLICE, SHOWN TO BE CAVALIERI MURDER WITNESS

Through Bertillon records taken in New York and Bridgeport it came to light today that Fabrice Chillingio, alleged to be a noted white slaver, is "Frank Pezzichemi," arrested in this city several years ago in connection with the murder of Jennie Cavallieri, but later released by the late State's Attorney Stiles Judson.

That Chillingio has been sought by the government authorities since 1911 became known when his arrest was recorded last night. It is now known that he was convicted October 24, 1903, for importing and holding women for immoral purposes and was sentenced to Sing Sing prison for four years. He served his time and was then taken by the Federal authorities for deportation. He managed to escape from the steamship bearing him to Italy before the boat left New York harbor.

He then came to this city where he was involved in the death ride of Jennie Cavallieri that ended in the execution of Joe Buonomo.

Chillingio was arrested October 20, 1914, by Detective Dooley, accompanying Federal police and was taken to Boston where he was again ordered deported. Before the order could be executed his lawyer intervened with a stay of proceedings and he was released under $1,500 bonds. He was to appear in New York yesterday but instead sent a medical report, stating that he was too ill to do so. This was not accepted by the court with the result that he was again arrested in a restaurant on Union street last night. Federal authorities took possession of him today, returning to New York.

By means of the Bertillon prints it was discovered today that Chillingio and Pezzichemi are the same.

WANTS DIVORCE FROM EVANGELIST SANKEY'S SON FOR DRUNKENNESS

Ira Allen Sankey, son of the noted hymn writer and evangelist who gained international fame as part author of the Moody and Sankey hymns, was today sued for divorce by Frances W. Sankey in the civil superior court. Ira Sankey is in business in New York but makes his home in Greenwich where Mrs. Sankey also has her residence.

In her complaint Mrs. Sankey charges her husband with intemperance, cruelty and desertion February 15, 1911. She says Sankey is worth $50,000 and asks for alimony. Mrs. Sankey's maiden name was Frances Wann. The action is returnable to the June term of court.

Rena Seelye of Monson, Mass., is the plaintiff in another divorce action filed today in the superior court. She wants a separation from Joseph L. Seelye, whose address in the directory is 308 Bunnell street. Mrs. Seelye, whose maiden name was Rena Ives, married the defendant January 23, 1895.

"WAR SPECIALITIES" DROP AT NEWS OF ATTACK.

New York, May 26.—Stocks weakened today on the report of the torpedoing of the American steamer Nebago. Prices fell one to three points from their early rally. The war shares were most affected. Supporting orders checked the decline but the market remained feverish.

The Italian parcel post service was suspended until further notice.

Governor Walsh, of Massachusetts, is confined to his rooms with tonsillitis.

DOCTOR ON STAND SAYS RICH WOMAN IS AN INEBRIATE

Dr. A. J. Givens, who conducts a sanitarium in Stamford, was the principal witness this morning in the hearing in the superior court on Mrs. Anna R. Schutte's appeal from probate. Dr. Givens said he regarded Mrs. Schutte as an habitual inebriate. He said at the time she was sent to his sanitarium in March, 1914 she was unsteady on her feet. When she first entered the institution they gave her whiskey in gradually decreased doses because they were afraid her health would break down if she did not have some liquor.

Dr. John H. Staub testified that he examined Mrs. Schutte March 31, 1914 and found that she drank to excess.

Mrs. Schutte who lives in New York seeks to have the court revoke the order placing her in the custody of a conservator. She admitted yesterday that she had drunk cognac and spirits of ammonia.

The trial was not finished at press hour.

Schoolboy Stricken With Heart Trouble

While studying this morning at the Shelton school, Wheeler avenue, Manuel Smith, aged 11, living at 1-023 Barnum avenue, was stricken with heart trouble and had to be removed in the emergency ambulance to St. Vincent's hospital. Late this afternoon it was said by the hospital surgeons that he was resting comfortably.

Cuts Received In Fall Develop Into Serious Injuries

Gershick Valentin, aged 28, living at 554 Crescent avenue, fell down stairs last Thursday. He suffered cuts about the head. Serious complications have resulted from infection, which may have developed mastoiditis.

Panhandling Great Business, He Says; Talked to Wrong Man

Because he sought a partner to share in his profits in panhandling, Frank Jones of New York, arrested last night in the railroad station for soliciting alms, was sentenced to the city court today to 60 days in the county jail. Jones approached one of the station employees and imparted the knowledge that there were big profits in his profession. He went about the station proving it and he was placed under arrest. The prisoner was greatly perturbed this morning when he learned that his prospective partner is an employee of the railroad.

Parcel Post Service to Italy Suspended

Parcel post to Italy has been suspended according to an order issued May 24 and recorded in the Daily Bulletin of Postal orders as follows:

"The postal administration to Italy having informed the Department by cablegram received to-day that the parcel post service between Italy and the United States is temporarily suspended, postmasters must decline to receive parcel post packages for mailing to Italy until further advised. Such parcel post packages as have been mailed or which may be mailed inadvertently will be returned to the senders."

TAX COLLECTOR'S OFFICE TO BE OPEN ALL WEEK.

The tax collector's office is open from 7 to 9 every evening this week. Saturday afternoon the office will be open until 5 o'clock. The office will be open for business all day Memorial day. Those who do not pay their taxes on or before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon are liable to a penalty of three-quarters of one per cent per month.

Lieut. Gov. Wilson's Mother Dies At Her Home In This City

Her home and family rather than to social engagements. She did not hold membership in any clubs or societies, but she was of kindly and generous nature, devoted in her church duties and liberal in her donations to charities connected with the First Baptist church and also much interested in the church work. She had a number of private charities about which she seldom spoke. She was beloved by all who knew her and news of her death today caused widespread grief.

Mayor Wilson was at the city hall for about ten minutes today to sign some important papers which required his immediate attention. Even during this short period he was showered with messages of condolence and expressions of sorrow and sympathy delivered personally by officials and attaches of the city hall. As news of the death of his mother became more generally known expressions of sympathy from friends and political associates in other cities began to pour in.

Besides her son, the lieutenant governor and mayor, Mrs. Wilson is survived by another son, Harold N. Wilson of this city, two daughters, Miss Eva Wilson, teacher in the State Normal school at Albany, N.Y., and Elizabeth, wife of Attorney Robert C. Deane of this city.

COMB CITY FOR NEW BLUES IN TORSO MYSTERY

were telegraphed. Additional inquiry into their identity is being asked of the Derby and Shelton police departments today.

The police of Shelton are asked this afternoon to make an inquiry of the three men found in the vehicle, and it was expected that before night two of the trio would be at the Shelton police station to give a detailed account of themselves on the night they were intercepted there.

Inquiry was made yesterday along Connecticut avenue where it was known that several houses had sheltered persons of more or less doubtful identity. This failed to show that any of the places had been occupied by those who might have been implicated in the crime.

Doubt prevails among police officials today as to whether any other parts of the body will ever be found. While they believe that the crime was committed in or near Bridgeport, it is a matter of dispute whether it took place on shore or on the waters of the harbor in some boat. Should the shore theory be correct it is asserted that parts of the body may have been thrown into the water or buried in another spot, in which case they will never be found at this late date. On the other hand the police assert that if committed on the water it would be most natural that those implicated should have knowledge that a torso would float and therefore buried it there. The head and legs would probably have been sunk in the harbor.

A further section of the sewer excavation running between Seaview avenue and Yellow Mill was uncovered today, careful observation being made of every large piece of dirt or other obstruction. No part of the body was found.

Consider Regulation of Jitneys in City

The proposed regulation of jitney buses will be the principal business before the ordinance committee of the common council at its meeting this evening. It has been proposed to require the jitney bus owners to pay a license of $5 for each car they operate.

FINISH BROAD STREET WARRENITE TOMORROW

It is expected that the laying of the Warrenite pavement in Broad street will be finished by tomorrow. Workmen today completed the pavement to prospect street. Tomorrow it is expected work will start on the pavement in Myrtle avenue and in Clinton avenue, from Railroad avenue to North avenue.

DARIEN CARPENTER KILLED BY BANKERS' EXPRESS ON TRACKS NEAR STATION IN SOUTHPORT

(Special to The Farmer.)
Fairfield, May 26.—John Kungert, aged 60, a carpenter of Darien, was killed at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the Southport railroad station. He was struck by the Bankers' express, bound for New York.

Kungert and Thomas Murray, a New Haven man, were repairing the roof of the shed at the south station. A ladder was stretched from Track 8 to the roof. Murray was at the top and Kungert was standing in the track holding the ladder to steady it. When the express approached, Murray jumped from the ladder and Kungert attempted to remove the ladder from the tracks. He hadn't time enough and the engine struck him, breaking his skull and throwing him about 50 feet. He was killed instantly.

Medical Examiner W. H. Donaldson was called and he gave permission for removal of the body to Darien.

The time limit for the dog muzzling order has again been extended. On instructions from Hartford, the local police authorities will enforce the order another month and at the end of that time a report of conditions will be made. If required, the order will be kept in force several weeks thereafter.

Mrs. Harry Glover of Fairfield is conducting a campaign to aid the suffering in Nish, Serbia, and in Paris. She will be at her home every Thursday afternoon to give out sewing work to be taken home.

Mrs. Nina L. Duryea, now in Paris, has written that there are 1,400 typhus victims lying on bare floors in Nish. It is impossible to get either tickings or spoils of thread in sufficient quantity to provide mattresses as no shop will sell more than one spool to a person. As a result of the appeal in the letter, Mrs. Glover is preparing to receive tickings and white sewing cotton for the victims.

U. S. Warships to Rescue When Tramp Steamer and Liner Crash During Fog

The Ryndam's cargo consisted chiefly of foodstuffs and was valued at approximately $1,000,000. The bulk of her shipments were consigned to the Netherlands.

Wireless from Captain.
A wireless message from Captain Heuvel of the Ryndam, made public by the Holland-American Line at 9 o'clock and received by them less than an hour before, read as follows: "One hundred and fifty miles from Ambrose. Hold five full of water. Hold six water gaining. Engine room water we can master. Am proceeding 12 mile speed. Passengers and 160 crew safely on board Cuneo. American squadron standing by." Apparently Captain Heuvel was not aware, when he sent this message that the passengers had been retransferred from the Cuneo to the battleship South Carolina.

Warship Makes Report.

Newport, May 26.—Radio messages received from the South Carolina today stated she had on board 25 percent of the disabled steamer Ryndam. The South Carolina was at first ordered to land the passengers here but later she was directed to convey the Ryndam to New York.

STRUCK ON HEAD IN WATER STREET BRAWL.

While arguing with a stranger at water and Wall streets this afternoon John Welsh, aged 32, living on Nichols avenue, received a blow upon the head with some blunt instrument, which opened his scalp for several inches. Treatment was given at the Emergency hospital while the police seek his assailant who made his escape in the excitement that prevailed.

PEASE IS GUEST OF HIS NEW STAFF

The recently appointed deputies and pull attaches gave a dinner to Sheriff-elect Simeon Pease at the Bridgeport club this afternoon. About 30 were present and an excellent meal was enjoyed.

The appointment presented Sheriff-elect Pease with a handsome gold badge. The presentation speech was made by County Sealer Thomas J. Cunningham, one of the newly appointed deputies. The speech was in the form of a mock indictment and contained many humorous sallies which the diners applauded.

Missing Linen Sought Among Street Loafers

The police of this city are searching today for some habitue of the docks who is wearing new linen. If they find such a man they are nearly sure that they will unravel the mystery of two robberies of trucks and automobiles on Main street yesterday, which resulted in loss to F. E. Warner, connected with the Warner Brothers carpet factory and E. M. Potter, an expressman.

Mr. Warner reported that three new shirts, half a dozen collars and some underclothing had been stolen from an auto standing in front of the Davis & Hawley store yesterday. Mr. Potter reported that a bundle consigned to his care from Howland's Dry Goods Store, valued at $5 had been taken in a similar manner in the heart of the city. Loafers in the Water street district are believed responsible. It is believed the same thief or thieves lifted a new overcoat belonging to Compensation Commissioner E. T. Buckingham from his automobile as it stood in Main street about the same time of day.

Zionist Society To Hear Notables At Mass Meeting

An interesting public lecture and mass meeting to which the people of Bridgeport are invited, will be held tomorrow evening in the Casino on State street under the auspices of the local Zionist society. Admission is free. Dr. L. Smilnow will be the chairman of the meeting.

Three well known speakers are on the program, Rev. Madison C. Peters of Brooklyn, a widely recognized orator who will talk on "The Religious Aspect of the War in Europe," Rev. Richard L. Swain of this city, who will discuss the Christian side of the question, and A. L. Fromenson of New York, a prominent speaker of the Metropolis who will tell of the "Jewish Trouble with Relation to the War in Europe."

It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear three such prominent and interesting speakers discuss the question.

Disbrow's Widow To Have Entire Estate

William A. Disbrow, the old contractor who dropped dead about two weeks ago, leaves his entire estate to his wife, Theresa, and names her executrix who will sell of the "Jewish Trouble with Relation to the War in Europe."

NO CALL YET TO ELECT NEW TOWN CHAIRMAN.

No meeting has been called for the selection of a Democratic town chairman for Bridgeport. Hugh Lavery of the Ninth district, assistant clerk of the city court, Archie Levery of the Seventh and Alderman Corr of the Second district have been mentioned for the place.
